

Online Interview Skills Pack

There's no secret behind acing your medical school interview. There is only one thing you have to do: practice, practice, practice!

Our pack is designed as a fast-track course that could boost your confidence and help you become a better candidate. We start with a face-to-face teaching session delivered via our online classroom where we cover the theory behind interviews.

We then give you enough time for everything to sink in, we send you further resources, and then we meet again, this time to consolidate what we've learnt during the previous session via Mock MMIs and Mock Panel Interviews.

To maximise this experience, you will receive personalised feedback from at least 10 medical students and/or doctors who will be part of our panel during the interviews.

Furthermore, we will provide specific information regarding the interview style and requirements for four of your chosen medical schools in the UK. Medical Schools change their entry requirements and interview techniques every year - this is to ensure you are aware of the latest changes they make.

Finally, we will provide several sample questions and answers to help you familiarise yourself better with the style and structure of MMI / Panel Interviews

“Education is the most powerful tool that can change the world”

Nelson Mandela

What's included in the pack?

- One-to-One sessions with a medical student or a doctor (Total 3 Hours Online)
 - 1 hour online theory session
 - 1 hour online Mock Multiple Mini Interview with 7 stations
 - 1 hour online Mock Panel Interview
- Resources and Background Reading
 - Reading list and preparation materials
 - Evidence based materials developed in collaboration with UK admission tutors
- Specific Information regarding your four Medical Schools of choice
- Sample questions and answers
- Common interview techniques and what to expect on the day

Our medical students are looking forward to joining you in your application journey. Remember, we are here to help and to support you until you succeed. After all, we've been through the same process and look where we are now!

If you would like to know more or to book the Online Interview Skills Pack, drop us an email at info@medefine.org.

Want something extra? Further One-to-One teaching sessions and mock interviews can be added to the Online Interview Skills Pack.