

Medefine Education International Essay Competition 2017

Tell us about your experience as a medical school applicant and take part in our International Article Competition. We are all different which makes each individual experience unique. Here at Medefine, we value your thoughts and want to make sure your voice and stories are being heard. You would be amazed to find out how many future applicants your story might inspire!

Current Theme: “Why Medicine?”

Why do you want to study Medicine? This is the eternal question and perhaps the most important one. The answer to this question should come naturally. You have probably encountered this question before from family, relatives, and friends.

We all love science and we all want to save people’s lives, but most importantly, what is your motivation? Why would you wake up every single morning to go to classes and later in your career to deal with patients? Vision is very important in medicine. By picturing yourself in the future, you demonstrate that you have already thought about this many times and that studying Medicine is indeed one of your biggest dreams.

In 250-500 words, tell us why you would like to study Medicine.

The format of the article should follow an essay structure with an introduction, body, and conclusion.

All submissions should be attached as a word document and emailed to info@medefine.org with the subject “International Essay Competition”. Within the email, include the following details:

- Full Name:
- Age:
- Name of School and year of study:
- Country and City of origin:
- Email address:

*All submissions will receive a certificate for participation. The best articles will be selected by a jury made of junior doctors and medical students within the UK. These will be published on our online platform and winners will receive prizes and certificates.

Happy writing, we very much look forward to reading your article!

Best wishes,

Medefine Education Team
